APPENDIX 1

Conciliation Procedure

This is to be the preferred method of dealing with all disputes wherever possible.

Upon receipt of a complaint against a SPATA Member or details of any dispute (other than by way of Adjudication Notice and a request for nomination of the Adjudicator), SPATA will confirm with the person making the complaint or referring the dispute whether they wish to initiate the conciliation procedure set out below.

Where the Parties confirm that they wish to conciliate the complaint or dispute in question SPATA Limited may at its sole discretion provide a list of potential conciliators.

Upon agreeing the Conciliator the Parties will enter into a conciliation agreement based upon the SPATA Limited conciliation agreement attached hereto.

The Conciliator will first call for written details of the complaint and will then convene a meeting of the two Parties at which he will take the chair and will proceed to investigate all aspects of the matters in dispute between them, including questions of liability and possible remedies.

He will endeavour to lead the two Parties towards a mutually acceptable solution and may offer his informed opinion and advice, but will have no power to enforce a solution of any kind upon either of the Parties who will retain all their rights to resort to litigation if agreement proves impossible.

Any settlement reached in the conciliation shall not be legally binding until it has been reduced to writing and signed by, or on behalf of, the Parties.

Immediately after the meeting the Conciliator will submit Minutes to both Parties setting out details of all matters agreed and listing those, if any, which remain in dispute. The minutes will be confidential and may not be disclosed in any legal proceedings.

Unless otherwise agreed between the Parties the Conciliator's costs would be payable by them in equal portions regardless of the outcome of the meeting.

Confidentiality

Every person involved in the conciliation will keep confidential and not use for any collateral or ulterior purpose: all information (whether oral, written or otherwise) produced for, or arising in relation to, the Mediation including the settlement agreement (if any) arising out of it except insofar as is necessary to implement and enforce any such settlement agreement.

Experience has shown that, whilst this procedure does not produce a legally binding Award, it does in most cases result in a mutually acceptable agreement at a vast saving in time and cost and, in those few cases where agreement proves impossible, it serves to eliminate irrelevant argument and spurious claims and to concentrate the attention of the Parties on the real problems.
